Migration: An Irish Reality

In the last generation we have seen many people seeking a better life in Ireland. Our parishes and schools as well as sports clubs, social clubs and other community initiatives are at the forefront of integrating those who have recently arrived, embedding them in an authentic fashion into their adopted communities.

It is often overlooked that from the congregation to the pulpit, the modern Irish Church is a dynamic and diverse reality. It is one of the prime locations in our society where those who have deep roots in Ireland encounter, befriend, support, and learn from those who are more newly arrived.

Weekly Reflection

When we feel compassionate, we are reaching out to others. Someone's tears get us crying, or joy gets us laughing.

Compassion reaches into the needs of another, and simply wants to be there and to help.

We see creation as the beauty of God and care for it, and men and women as images of God and we care for them.

We see beyond labels and categories to everyone as a child of God, and our brother and sister. This is the 'eye of faith'.
